

Optimal LED Video Wall Viewing Distances

Optimal viewing distance for LED video walls is dependent on the pixel pitch of the video wall modules. The tighter the pixel pitch (calculated in physical distance, millimeters, between each pixel), the closer a viewer can be to the video wall and not detect highly pixelated images.

The following graphic explains optimal viewing distances for common, high resolution LED video pixel pitches.

